4 great things to give your young actor this holiday season!

The music is playing in your home, sales are at their peak, the weather is frightful, the lists are made, and the cookies are beginning to bake. Wait! You still need a great and unique gift for the young actor in your life. No fear, we can help make your gift memorable this season.

Theater Tickets

For the first time ever Weathervane Playhouse in Newark, Ohio presents a winter Production. "Les Miserables" will be showing December 19-29 or you can purchase season tickets for the upcoming 2014 season. Seeing a performance provides young actors with essential examples of good acting and inspires their passions for performance. Invite them to enjoy the magic of the theater!

Books and Plays

Encourage your young actor to read! Some of the favorites are Neil Simon's "Brighton Beach Memoirs", "The Gingerbread Lady", "The Good Doctor", or "Be Aggressive" by Annie Weisman. Other recommendations are "The Matchmaker" and "Our Town" by Thorton Wilder or "To Kill a Mockingbird" by Harper Lee. Stick with good literature and you can't go wrong!

Board Games

This gets the whole family involved! Games such as Guesstures is a charades game that many young actors enjoy playing. Games like this keep the family laughing and is great practice for non-verbal communication. Thinking you need something simpler...try Kids on Stage, another charades game for your budding actor ages 3-6.

Classes and Workshops

The Weathervane Young Artist Reparatory Theater (WYART) offers a variety of classes and workshops for young actors including two summer productions. Purchase a gift certificate now and let your young actor blossom this year. Beginner through advanced classes are being developed now so don't miss out!
